TRACK RAPIDLY DRYING OUT

SUN SHINES AT CHARLESTON AND PALMETTO PARK COURSE IMPROVES FAST.

Patronage Runs Far Ahead of Last Season in Spite of Wintry Weather—H. G. Bedwell Still Leads Owners.

Charleston, S. C., January 4.—That racing at Palmetto Park is truly established was ably demonstrated last week when, in spite of six days of rainy and wintry weather, the attendance showed a big increase over the corresponding days of the meeting last winter. The heavy track did not keep all the good horses in their stables and they contested in overnight handicaps and the stake race in goodly numbers.

Today the sun came out strong and the track was drying out fast. Barring further rain, of which there is none in sight, the going should be good by Tuesday and the course should be faster than at any time during the meeting by the following day. The rain has served to settle the new top layer of soil that was spread on the track, which was responsible for the slow time made to date.

Secretary Nathanson's condition book calls for some racing of good quality during the week with long distance races as a special feature. He has also made liberal provisions for the new two-year-olds and they will be seen in action several times in the next few days. Two stakes will be run off this week, both with selling conditions, they being the Battery Park and the Isle of Palms Stakes, the former at one mile and the latter at six furlongs. Both are for three-year-olds and over and have a guaranteed cash value of $1,200.

Thus far the betting here has averaged twelve layers daily, but this will be increased to at least fourteen within a few days. The acquisition of John Lewis, who will cut in Tuesday, will add new life to the ring and it is said that Horace Paul will be here from Juarez shortly. At present the layers have their hands full taking care of the speculation, and all report losses on the thirty days of the meeting which have elapsed.

Selling race troubles at Palmetto Park are at the most acute stage since the meeting opened and a record number of horses have changed hands by the run-up process. The selling handicaps have served in a measure to protect the better class of players, due to the high prices for which they are entered, but even in several of these races the winners have been given a stiff tilt.

H. G. Bedwell still leads the owners in the matter of purse winnings, but the victory of Ringling in the New Year's Handicap put the Beverley Stable close to him. Four owners have so far passed the $5,000 mark. Jockey Johnny McTaggart leads the jockeys, with 34 wins to his credit, with Buxton next with 24. Deonon, with 16; R. Gosse, 12; E. Martin, 11; and C. Turner, 10 are the only other riders who have ridden ten or more winners.

The owners who have won $1,000 or more up to and including Saturday's races are: H. G. Bedwell, $6,395; J. O. Talbot, $5,200; J. L. Holland, $5,060; Beverley Stable, $5,795; W. Walker, $2,010; R. C. Chatham, $1,620; A. Weber, $1,570; M. A. Colton, $1,450; L. H. Adair, $1,260; J. M. Zimmer, $1,575; C. T. Worthington, $1,150; G. C. Baker, $1,085; C. W. Hedrick, $1,025; J. H. McCarren, $1,025.

DEFENDS QUALITY OF AMERICAN HORSE.

John E. Madden Cites Instances to Prove Staying Abilities of Our Thoroughbreds.

Under the caption of "The American Thoroughbred," John E. Madden, owner of Hamburg Place and one of America's most successful turfmen, contributed to the Thoroughbred Record a highly interesting article. It is in part as follows:

"It appears to be the aim of some turf writers of the present day to induce their readers to believe that the American thoroughbred is greatly lacking in staying powers. Though I am a great stickler for the purest of blood lines, I must, out of justice to the American thoroughbred, enter denial to this charge. Like all other countries, America has both speed and staying families. It is true that of recent years the majority of horses sent to race abroad have belonged to our speed rather than our staying families, which has, no doubt, created false impressions.

"We still have the blood that made the names of Parole, Foxhall and Isqueis famous in England. Speaking of later days and of my own experience with David Garrick and Kilmarnock, which I sold to Mr. Lorillard and Mr. Whitney, respectively, and which were sent abroad to race, I trained and raced these horses on this side, and always regarded them as being fifteen pounds below their class in England and France. Note the results and particularly the fact that Kilmarnock after running second to Santol in a two-and-a-half mile race on June 20, came back next day and won over a distance of two and three-quarter miles. "It is said it takes a true stayer to win the Chester Cup, nearly two and one-quarter miles, which David Garrick did, carrying 122 pounds.

"Opinions die, but records stand." "It has always been my regret that the good race horses, Salvadore and King James, when I sold them, did not fall into the hands of owners who would have raced them abroad, or these horses would have done much to remind the busy scribes that American-bred horses can still carry weight and stay. With Salvadore, who the Annual Champion, two and one-quarter miles, value $25,000, and again won the same race with King James—both from American families."

DEBARRING UNSOUND STALLIONS.

The knowledge that there was some idea of introducing legislation to debar stallions other than those granted a government certificate for soundness from travelling or standing for public stud purposes, must have caused some breeders in this state considerable anxiety. It is scarcely necessary for me to remark that we have more than one prominent thoroughbred stallion which would have but little chance of a certificate if "roaring" is regarded as unsoundness, and at the same time, it might have been a trifle unfair to have debarred their owners from receiving outside subscriptions. One or two acknowledged "roarers" still at the stud have been successful, and others promise to be, and one can imagine the feelings of their respective owners if legislation cut off any revenue from outside mares. However, Mr. Treffe has overcome the difficulty by asking the use of unsuitable horses should be discontinued without recourse to legislative being necessitated, and an intimation to secretaries of societies that no uncertificated horse shall be allotted a prize at any show. However, the latter condition will not trouble those of our studmasters who never exhibit their stallions.—Pilot in Sydney Referee.

CHIEF MONEY-WINNING HORSES OF 1913 IN AMERICA

In the racing of 1913 the number of horses winning $3,000 or more for their owners was 208. Of these thirteen won in excess of $10,000, or more than double the record of the previous year in that respect, when but six horses were able to amass that sum. The difference is fairly reflective of the slowly mounting fortunes of the turf after a period of devastation and the diminishment of the determining factor in this advancement was the resumption of racing in the state of New York. This important occurrence restored an old field in which both eastern and western horses were able to figure profitably for their owners. It is a source of real gratification that the revival of racing over the Belmont Park and Saratoga tracks was attended with some brilliant performances in a racing way, quite up to the best ever known before in this country, in fact one feature was without precedent. This was the grand racing of Whisk Broom II. This magnificent specimen of the thoroughbred was brought back from England after acquiring himself nobly there in competition with England's best. In this country he ran only three races, but in them he did two things no horse had been able to do before. The races were the Metropolitan, Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps and he won them all. Fitz Herbert had made a new record when he won both the Brooklyn and Suburban, but Whisk Broom II. made another of superior merit when he took all three of the greatest handicaps of the eastern turf. The other record in this series was his unprecedented feat of taking up the crushing burden of 139 pounds and winning the Suburban Handicap in 2:00. The highest weight ever carried to victory before in this great race was Henry of Navarre's 129 pounds in 1896. Distinctly the racing of this great horse was the star attraction of New York racing of 1913 and contributory in no small means to its success. Of another class, but quite unique in its way, was the entirely remarkable achievement of the seven-year-old gelding, Donald Macdonald, in winning twenty-two races and second place in the list of leading money-winning horses. Another veteran that emerged from retirement to the end and raced with something of the speed and fire of his younger days was the eight-year-old Sir John Johnson. But he was able to make nothing near the record of Donald Macdonald, which, among other things, won more races than any other horse of the year.

The four-year-olds of 1913 were inferior compared with preceding years, only Rudolfo and Flora Fina being able to accomplish anything of note. But the younger horses made compensation for this and the racing of 1914 should be graced by some high-class four-year-olds. Of the three-year-old division Ten Point, Cowell, Hearts of Oak, Cock o' the Walk, Buskin, Rock View, Pandorina, Flying Fairy, Pan Zareta, Donerail, Horon, Montessor, Floral Park, Kieburne, Great Britain, First Sight and Leochares all raced so well as to seem to give assurance of this. In point of combined speed, stamina and ability to carry high weights successfully Horon, Cock o' the Walk, Rock View and Ten Point seemed to rank somewhat in advance of the others, but the difference could not be expressed in any great number of pounds. Donerail defeated Ten Point at even weights in a memorable Kentucky Derby, the fastest ever run, but he did not subsequently race to the same high standard, else he also might be vested with a valid claim to rank with the best of his age. Besides these named there were other three-year-olds which raced so well as to hold out the possibility of development into four-year-olds able to race to a still higher rate of form. Flabbergast, Barneget, Lindesta, Night Stick, Tarts, Monocacy, Helios, The Widow Moon, Kalinka, Hawthorn and others that might be named falling in this category.

Included in the number of two-year-olds in the racing of 1913 were some truly exceptional performers. To one of these, the brilliant Uncle gelding, Old Rosebud, fell the distinction of being the chief money winner of the year. Starting in fourteen races, he won twelve of them and owed his two defeats to his near relative, Little Nephew, once by a head and once by a length. In every essential to the making of a high-class two-year-old there was nothing lacking in his case. H. P. Whitney's Futurity winner, Pennant, was another of high class that made a great impression and won all of his races. Our Canadian neighbors also contributed an unbeaten two-year-old in the Bassettlaw colt, Beehive, which won all of his six races and was probably the best two-year-old bred in Canada in many years. Besides these stars, Little Nephew, Hodges, Gainer, Roamer, Southern Maid, Brindhurst, Surprising, Punch Bowl, Imperator, Black Beauty, Superintendant, Ralph, Casuarina, Gordon, Old Ben, Godelus (dead), Countess, Bradleys Choice, Transid, Flittergold and Vandergrift all proved in racing that they were youngsters of superior excellence and sure to provide three-year-olds in 1914 capable of investing the stake races for horses of their age with at least the customary measure of public interest. Quite probably some that for one reason and another did not race much or to the real form of their natural endowment may shine in the racing of 1914. H. P. Whitney's Forum furnishing a case in point. His half brother, Harmonicon, was Mr. Whitney's best horse that year in England and a colt of remarkable speed. There is good reason to believe that Forum is similarly gifted.

Since and including 1902 the leading money-winning horses of each year have been:

RECORD IS EASILY BROKEN

IRON MASK RUNS THREE-QUARTERS IN 1:09.3 OVER JUAREZ TRACK.

Pan Zareta, His Only Opponent in Race Framed For Purpose of Reducing American Mark, Unable to Make Livingston Racer Extend Himself.

El Paso, Tex., January 4.—The special race framed for today by Secretary Edward Jasper of the Jockey Club Juarez with the object of establishing a new American record for three-quarters of a mile, accomplished its purpose with plenty to spare. Jefferson Livingston's crack six-year-old sprinter, Iron Mask, one of the horses that the Cincinnati magnate purchased from Harry Payne Whitney last summer at Saratoga, was returned an easy winner of the race and ran the distance in 1:09.3, which reduced the American record by one second and a fifth. The record which the unsexed son of Disguise and Royal Rose created today was that made by himself with an impost of 127 pounds in winning the opening race of the Douglas Park meeting at Louisville, Ky., September 23, last. On October 3, at the same track, John W. Schorr's three-year-old, Leochares, with 109 pounds up, equaled Iron Mask's time, as did I. E. Clark's two-year-old, Orb, carrying 90 pounds, at Juarez December 9.

In today's race Iron Mask was opposed only by J. F. & H. S. Newman's fleet four-year-old filly, Pan Zareta. Uselit, which had been named overnight as a likely starter in the race, was withdrawn. Iron Mask carried 115 pounds and was piloted by jockey Loftus, while Pan Zareta had jockey Kirschenbaum in the saddle and carried 110. The remarkably liberal odds of 1 to 2 was laid on Iron Mask, while Pan Zareta was loyally supported at 3 to 2 by a local following that has come to greatly admire her as a result of the sterling performances in which she has figured at Juarez since the opening of the present season.

It was only in the early stages of the race that the two contenders ran close together. Pan Zareta was first away from the barrier and, setting a sizzling pace, led for the first sixteenth. Then Iron Mask settled into his stride, moved up past the flying daughter of Abe Frank at the end of the first quarter, steadily drew away and finally won with his rider easing him up. The fractional time of the race gives a good idea of the wonderfully fast pace that marked the early running. The first eighth was run in 1:12, the quarter in 2:15, three-eighths in 3:32, the half in 4:45 and five-eighths in 5:56, leaving 12 1/2 for the last eighth. In the market during Iron Mask's being eased up, Iron Mask ran through-out like a well-oiled piece of machinery and was never fully extended. It was evident that he could have run the distance in 1:09 or better, had it been necessary. The layers in the betting ring laid odds against the flying grey, who said they would be anything but the best of the local popularity of the filly whose measure he so easily took.

The day's racing was fairly formful, favorites accounting for half the card. B. A. Jones easily repeated his previous success in the two-year-old race, Brookfield was returned winner of the mile handicap and came within one-fifth of a second of the American record.

DERBY CANDIDATES UNDER SUSPICION.

Within my knowledge no attempts have been made to speculate on the Derby since the flat-racing season terminated. As for the great classic event of next year, the apathy is easily explained the fact being that several of the reputed crack two-year-olds are for one reason or another under more or less suspicion. As an example, the Te-trearch and Kennymore, while it is admitted that Stornoway is a confirmed roarer, so that I fear Mr. E. Hulton will have still to wait before finding solid consolation for the disappointments experienced with Lomond and Shogun. No one says anything definite against the flying grey, who did such brilliant work for his sporting young owner, and demonstrated himself by far the best of his age, but, in spite of the confident assertion that he is all right, there is no getting away from the fact that, after being very tight in the market during the summer at the ridiculously cramped odds of 5 to 2, he has been cold-shouldered ever since the mishap which prevented him from taking part in the Kempton Park Imperial Produce Stakes, which was to have been his last race before retiring into winter quarters. It will be a thousand pities if there is anything wrong with the remarkable son of Roi Herode, but beyond question the doubt exists, and it is not reassuring that his work consists for the most part of being ridden and led in walking exercise. In the circumstances, it is not to be expected that anyone not intimately associated with the Te-trearch and Kennymore will venture to support him until he has been seen in public again. Meanwhile, let us hope, for the sake of all concerned, that there is no cause for fear, and it is certainly something in his favor that engagemen have recently been made for him as far ahead as Ascot, 1915.

Concerning Kennymore, which is an exceptionally good-looking colt by John o' Gaunt, bred and owned by Sir John Thurst, there were good judges among the critics at Newmarket who suggested the possibility of his wind going wrong, but perhaps Alexander will have more trouble with his joints, and they may have been responsible for his deferred debut in the Middle Park Plate, when, like many another beginner, he ran green, and was beaten by Corcyra and Stornoway, receiving four pounds from the one and seven pounds from the other. Benefited by the experience, however, he gave an entirely different exhibition a fortnight later in the Dewhurst Plate, in which he turned the tables very decisively on Lord Londonderry's colt, which, however, was tackling him at a comparative disadvantage and was in fact attempting to give ten pounds. Aid was unfortunately touched in his wind, and Brakespear disappointed after making a promising start with consecutive victories in the Chesterfield Stakes at the Second July meeting and the Prince of Wales Sweepstakes at Goodwood. All the same, the son of Spearpoint is a fine colt, and has so far wintered extremely well. Rather unfortunately, as matters turned out Happy Warrior was retired from the Derby under cover of the minor forfeit, but Mr. J. B. Joel has still a chance with either Paragon or Black Jester, as has Captain Forester with By George, the quondam stable companion of Abou-eur, the sensational hero of this year. Courageous was not only highly tried in private, but acquitted himself of two smart performances on the race course before he met with the mishap which laid him by the heels after his meritorious defeat of Siller and others in the Exeter Stakes, but happily he has quite recovered, and is reported to be making satisfactory progress.—"Vigilant" in London Sportsman.

THE NEED OF THE THOROUGHBRED.

C. E. Brossman, who achieved fame as the trainer of that famous mare, Imp, and who now makes his home at Columbus, O., has written the following for reproduction in the press:

"The sparkling performance of Whisk Broom II, in winning the last Suburban Handicap, one mile and a quarter, carrying 139 pounds, in two minutes, made the blood of the owners, breeders and trainers of good horses all over the country tingle with excitement, gratification and satisfaction and demonstrated to all those critics who depreciate the qualities of the modern thoroughbred that the American race horse is still supreme and the peer of any horse on the face of the earth today, when it comes to speed, endurance and weight-carrying abilities. A mile and a quarter in two minutes is equal exactly to fifty-five feet per second for every second of the two minutes.

"What a grueling, heart-breaking contest it must have been, and it shows to what perfection the art of careful, scientific breeding has attained in this country, when we can produce an animal with all of the desirable qualities with which Whisk Broom II is endowed—size, speed, gameness, endurance and the ability to pack weight over a distance of ground. It must be remembered that it has taken over 300 years to develop the thoroughbred from an Arab, Turk or Barb pony of about 14 hands high to its present state of perfection. Careful selection of the fittest, determined by actual competition on the race track, the only reliable method by which an intelligent, judicious selection could have been made, has produced a big, strong, intelligent, rugged, vigorous horse.

"You can't breed good horses in one, two or three generations. It takes more than 100 years of careful selection to establish a breed and have it rep-duce true to type and character. Whisk Broom's ancestors were royally bred and sturdy performers on the turf. His sire, Brookstick, a stake winner for three seasons of fourteen races and $74,570, among the number being the Brighton Handicap, one and one-fourth miles, in 2:02 1/2, which, until recently beaten by his son, Whisk Broom II, was the best on record. He was a son of the mighty Ben Brush, a stake winner of twenty-five races, among the number being the Kentucky Derby, Latonia Derby, Suburban and Brighton Handicaps, etc. The sire of Ben Brush was Bramble, one of the most celebrated horses ever on the turf, winner of more cup races than any other horse in the history of American racing. Bramble's sire was imported Bonnie Scotland, one of the most famous horses of his time and a stake winner in England, by Lago, out of the immortal Queen Mary.

"Bonnie Scotland was foaled in 1852. He was owned and raced with success by W. J. Anson, but broke down at the finish after winning the Doncaster Stakes September 19, 1856. It was against the policy of the owner to keep a stallion, so he sold Bonnie Scotland in 1857 to Captain Cornish, who brought him to America on the ship Baltic. Upon his arrival in this country he was purchased by Mr. John Reber, of Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio, for $1,200. While at Lancaster Bonnie Scotland sired among others Nellie Gwynne, Bonnie Kate and Malcolm, and did a world of good to the breeding interests of Fairfield County. Malcolm afterward became famous as the sire of Marian, the dam of King of Norfolk, Duke of Norfolk, Dunce of Norfolk, Prince of Norfolk, Emperor of Norfolk, The Czar, El Rio Rey, Rey del Rey, Yo Tambien and Yo El Rey. Roxaline, a sister to Marion, was the dam of Princess, 38 wins; Willie W., 17 wins; Brait, 33 wins; Fred B., 6 wins, and Rosquet, 8 wins. These two mares by Malcolm produced sixteen winners, which won in the neighborhood of 230 races and $275,000.

"Bonnie Scotland made nine seasons in Ohio, remaining at Lancaster until 1867, when he became the property of Mr. E. A. Smith, who sent him to Kentucky, where he made the seasons of 1867 and 1868. In 1869 he became the property of Mr. J. C.
Simpson, who traded a farm in Iowa for him, the estimated value of the horse being $6,000. Mr.

Simpson subsequently sold the horse to Gage & Parks, of Chicago, Ill. Mr. Parks finally buying out Mr. Gage's interest and standing the horse at his farm at Waukegan, Ill.

"General Harding in 1876, after seeking all over the country for a stallion to put at the head of the great Belle Meade Farm at Nashville, Tenn., concluded that Bonnie Scotland was the best obtainable, and so purchased him, and the horse made his first season there in 1877. Soon he became one of the most popular stallions in the United States. He led the winning sires in America for the years 1880 and 1883. And when he died at Belle Meade February 1, 1880, aged 27 years, his skeleton was autographed and placed in the Vanderbilt University Nashville, Tenn.

"Audience, the dam of Whisk Broom II, was a performer on the race track of unusual merit, and just such a mare as we would expect to produce a champion. A stake winner in her two and three-year-old form of $15,682. Among the races she won were the Produce Stakes at Brighton, the Tennessee Oaks and the Kentucky Oaks. She was by Sir Dixon out of Sallie McClelland, was the great Hindoo. Now, Sallie McClelland, by the champion two-year-old filly of her year, a winner of $57,055, and dam of great stake winners.

"The next dam, Red and Blue, by the speedy Alarum, was the dam of a number of winners and grand dams of Blue, winner of $63,280, and Blue Girl, winner of $48,950, out of the famous stake winner, Maggie B. B., by imported Australian.
Maggie B. B. produced Iroquois, winner of the Epsom Derby, St. Leger, etc., and a successful sire; the great race horses and sires Flatlands, Harold, Pauque, and grand dam of Sir Dixon. Therefore, Whisk Broom II, has a double cross of the blood of Maggie B. B., through Sallie McClelland and also through Sir Dixon. The family traces back through Magnolia, dam of twelve winners, imported Myrtle and the famous Bobadilla, winner of the Ascot Cup, etc., to the twenty-third dam, a Layton Bay mare.

"Horses of the class to which Whisk Broom II belongs are what the United States Government ought to have at the head of all of its breeding farms, instead of experimenting with horses, the greater part of whose tabulated pedigree is blank and unknown. There should be stallions whose every ancestral line has been tried and tested, and of known excellence.

"The breeders of the thoroughbred should be encouraged by enacting just and equitable laws, as has been done in the state of Kentucky, for the thoroughbred horse is invaluable for cavalry purposes, and you can't breed them in a hurry. In cases of unusual stress, where haste is absolutely necessary, the manufacture of every other equipment used by the army and navy, battleships, cannon, arms and artillery, can be hurried and rushed, but cavalry horses must be bred in the same old way, for it takes just as much time now to breed a horse as it did before the days of modern invention, and no one can change the process. With a racing commission the business will prosper, the army can be supplied with suitable remounts and our cavalry will again be an efficient, confident, aggressive branch of the service in time of war.

"Let us not all ourselves to sleep with the idea that war will be no more and that universal peace is about to prevail, for nation shall rise up against nation and kingdom against kingdom" while the world stands. The political moral anarchist would prostrate a great industry, cripple a valuable branch of the army, destroy patriotism and jeopardize the lives of our people if they can only continue to draw salary and become notorious as reformers to further their own personal, private, selfish ends.

"Copenhagen, the horse upon which the Duke of Wellington rode through his most arduous campaigns, was a thoroughbred, and nearly all of the most brilliant exploits of his arms have been through the medium of their mounted forces, notably the desperate charge of the Light Brigade at the battle of Balaklava. When the gallant Custer made his last charge in the battle of the Little Big Horn he rode to his death on the back of a thoroughbred named war and horse both ready and willing to die for their country, but never surrendering.

"In the civil war the cavalry regiments from Kentucky and Tennessee had horses in which the thoroughbred blood largely predominated, and when Morgan started and terrified the north by raiding through Indiana and Ohio he covered 90 miles in 25 hours with a command of 2,100 men.
This is no time for theories or sentiment. A grave-condition confronts us and if we are wise and patriotic we will be guided by the experience of all European nations and do everything in our power to promote and encourage the breeding and development of the thoroughbred horse."
